

Discrimination in Northern Schools Is There, Hard to Prove

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials say first probes into Northern school systems show evidence of racial discrimination but it's going to be tougher to prove than they thought.

"We're going to have to have some help from the courts for this," said the director of the effort, Mrs. Ruby Martin of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. "There's going to have to be a lot of litigation fast or nothing much is going to happen."

Mrs. Martin, director of the department's Office for Civil Rights, said in an interview that investigators have found decisions by some school boards have caused or perpetuated segregation.

But, she said, "it's really hard to dig the stuff out. You have to go through volumes and volumes of school board meetings and so forth, sometimes back for many years."

Mrs. Martin said attacking discrimination in the South has been easy, by contrast, because schools were segregated by law. The Supreme Court ruled in 1954 that such laws were unconstitutional.

In the North, schools now tend to be white or Negro because of highly segregated housing patterns. No court has ruled that school segregation regardless of cause is unconstitutional.

The Justice Department has just begun a legal attack on northern school discrimination. Its first case produced a ruling by a federal judge that schools in South Holland, Ill., a Chicago suburb, must be integrated.

The department began last April to apply antidiscrimination guidelines to the North as well as to the South. They have so far completed full-scale investigations in six cities and preliminary reviews in 24 others.

The six are South Holland, Ill., Union Township, N.J., Watertown, Conn., Toledo and Midletown, Ohio, and Pasadena, Calif.

kanas," he said. "I speak of the Democratic party."

Matthews is in line to succeed Leon B. Catlett of Little Rock, who has resigned as chairman of the state Democratic party. The young attorney has been viewed as sympathetic to the progressive causes, and in much of his speech he shrouded that theme.

"You're going to witness here in this convention the great diversity of a free and open political party," he said at one point.

"We have gathered in convention to initiate a progressive positive program," he said at another.

"This convention will see the most progressive rule changes ever undertaken by a political party in the modern history of our state," he said at a third. "This convention will open wide the windows and let in the heady breezes of reform," he promised at another point.

Matthews said again, "This convention will signal to the people a new party which has dismantled and buried its old machine. In place of its old rumblings you will find only the voices of the people we represent."

"I know that there are some who will say that the Democratic machine has not been buried..." he said. "But you're wrong. We have dismantled our old machine never to be resurrected again."

In a jibe at Republicans, Matthews said the machine had been buried but some would argue "that like everything else the Republicans have bought it, too."

The GOP convention, he said, was a display of automaton doing what they were told at both national and state levels.

"Compare the background of our candidates with the failures and superficiality of the Republican candidates," Matthews said. "Compare the freedom, the warmth and healthy diversity of our party with the cold faceless machine of the opposition."

He said that in 21 months in office the Republicans "have succeeded in completely reversing a 35-year trend of progressive economic growth."

The Democratic party, through qualified candidates and a convention developing reforms, would prove to be the party that would win in the Nov. 5 general election, he said.

The new party rules that will be presented to the convention for adoption apparently will not require loyalty to the national Democratic candidates.

However, they will, tighten the loyalty requirements for supporting state candidates — a pledge sought by Marion Crank, the gubernatorial nominee.

A preliminary draft adopted by the Rules Committee Wednesday said that no one could be a candidate in a Democratic primary "who will not pledge himself to vote for and support at the ensuing general election the nominees of the Democratic party."

The draft also said that no person would be permitted to vote in a Democratic primary "who will not pledge himself to vote for and support at the ensuing general election the nominees of the Democratic party."

Jack Oakes of Augusta, Crank's campaign manager, suggested adding the words "selected in the primaries." He said no one should be allowed to participate in a primary if he wasn't going to support the nominee chosen in the primary, State Rep. W.E. Rainwater of Fort Smith, a committee member, said there was nothing in the proposed rules that would bind anyone to vote for the national ticket.

One section of the preliminary draft that was criticized was Section 22, it pertained to the membership of county committees.

Tickets Are Taken in Burglary

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A burglary may keep the Arkansas-Oklahoma State football game Saturday from being a sellout.

About 500 end zone tickets were taken from Hall Men's Wear in a burglary early Wednesday morning.

Owner Lloyd Hall reported the theft of the tickets plus $1,700 in cash and clothing from his store yesterday. The tickets were worth more than $2,500.

Spirit of 2 Democratic Heroes Evoked

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, eagerly welcoming the public embraces of two heroes of dissident Democrats, today evoked the spirit of the late John F. Kennedy against Richard M. Nixon.

After a scheduled introduction by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the vice president, in remarks prepared for a rally, said of the Republican presidential candidate:

"We know the man Jack Kennedy defeated in 1960—and we know what he stood for then—and we know what he stands for now."

After his speech in Boston's downtown shopping area, Humphrey's schedule had him traveling halfway across the country to South Dakota for an appearance with Sen. George S. McGovern, who challenged the vice president for the Democratic presidential nomination in Chicago.

Humphrey's stops today marked the start of a three-week whirlwind tour in which he hopes to overcome a wide margin the polls say Nixon has built up in the early stages of the campaign. The public appearances with McGovern and Kennedy are seen as a step toward unifying the Democratic party.

He also is expected to visit Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, California, Washington and Oregon.

Humphrey, recalling that President Kennedy closed his campaign against Nixon in a speech in Boston, repeated these words of the late president:

"This race is a contest between the comfortable and the concerned, between those who believe that we should rest and lie at anchor and drift, and between those who want to move this country forward in the 1960's."

Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson, said Humphrey, "got America moving again."

Now, eight years later, Humphrey said, the American people must decide, "do we have the courage, do we have the common sense to keep this country moving forward?"

Humphrey again hammered at Nixon's opposition to a ratification this year of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, even though he has endorsed the pact.

Humphrey charged that the failure to ratify the treaty this year "could mean the death of the treaty forever" and he added:

"I don't think we can afford to play political games with any-action later Thursday.

The money bill would cut 45 per cent from new funds requested by the administration, which asked for $2.6 billion.

The proposed new funds are for use during the fiscal year ending next June 30. They are the smallest since the aid program was launched in 1948.

But, in a formal report written by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., the committee claimed the funds recommended "will still permit continuation of a reasonable level of effort."

It called the program "important to our national interest" but said the nation's serious fiscal situation compelled it to "take an even harder look" at the program than it has in the assistance of $118.4 billion in loans and grants, not including interest charges of about $52.8 billion.

thing as serious as nuclear war — with anything as serious as the possible incineration of this planet."

Humphrey asserted that all those who supported President Kennedy and all those who worked for the party the last eight years still have a stake in the 1968 election despite the interparty feuding.

Freighter Is Sinking in Atlantic

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard said today the Dutch freighter Johannes Frans was slowly sinking in heavy Atlantic seas about 650 miles east of here.

A Coast Guard cutter and a merchant tug stood by but were unable to help the 18,000-ton, 633-foot freighter because of the 10- to 15-foot seas. The ship was taking on water from an unknown source and therefore could not be towed, the Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard amphibious search and rescue plane was flying to the ship with four pumps to help stem the flooding, the Coast Guard said.

It was not known how many were aboard the ship.

The Johannes Frans radioed a distress call at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, saying its holds were flooding and its power plant had failed.

The Coast Guard cutter Dallas, which was at its ocean station nearby, reached the freighter two hours later. It managed to get one pump to the ship but then its lines broke and the cutter could only standby in case the crew abandoned ship.

County Democratic Central Committee.

The Convention started at 10 a.m. this morning with roll call of counties, U.S. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills will serve as permanent chairman of the convention.

Reports from the Credentials Committee, Rules Committee and Committee on Order of Business and Permanent Organization will be heard Thursday morning. After lunch, the delegates heard speeches from Hardy Croxton, nominee for Congress in the Third District; Bill Alexander, nominee for Congress in First District and Dr. Lawrence E. Davis, president of Arkansas A&M College.

An old fashioned Democratic rally and dinner will be held Thursday night in the Auditorium with Senator Robert Byrd of West Virginia as the speaker.

The convention will resume at 9 a.m. Friday with a speech by Congressman David Pryor of Camden. Senator J. William Fulbright will address the delegates followed by the other Democratic nominees.

chant tug, also reached the ship this morning.

The ship is owned by Nederlandse Eris-Tankers Maats. N.V. and is registered at The Hague, Netherlands.

Weather to Remain Mild in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ideal football weather is expected in Arkansas through Saturday as clear to fair skies and mild temperatures remain in the forecast.

Cool temperatures brought into the state by southwesterly winds from a low pressure system in Iowa are expected to yield to a warming trend through the weekend.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 55 degrees at El Dorado to 66 at Harrison.

Highs reported Wednesday ranged from 79 degrees at Walnut Ridge and Harrison to 87 at Fort Smith.

Left Holding the Cookies

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Donald Dole was left holding the cookies in Julie Nixon's program in support of the presidential campaign of her father, Richard M. Nixon.

Dole, a caterer, said he was told to bake 10,000 cookies for the crowd Wednesday. About 400 persons showed up.

POWELL-ROWE EXCHANGE VOWS

Miss Peggy Rowe and Rodney Van Powell exchanged vows Friday night, September 6 at 7 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Rowe. Rodney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Powell of Hope.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Rev. Clyde Johnson, pastor of the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar of white gladioli, candles and greenery.

The bride and groom's only attendants were Miss Donna Cole of Hope and Barry Hart of West Memphis, Arkansas. Before the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Wendel McKirkle, cousin of the bride.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the dining room of the home. Miss Lilla McKirkle presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Becky Clark served the wedding cake.

Those attending the wedding were parents of the groom and close friends and relatives of the couple.

After a short trip to Hot Springs, the couple are at home in Hope.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. R. L. Broach was the high scorer at the Tuesday Bridge Club which met with Mrs. Harry Hawthorne on September 17. Arrangements of pink roses and pink carnations were seen at various points of interest in the home. During the refreshment hour the hostess served cheesecake and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crossnoe, Mission Hills, Calif., are visiting F. E. Russell.

Life In Arkansas

Mack Little, district ranger in the Ozark National Forest, says that black bears are visiting the recreation areas of the forest.

Little said that many campers at Fairview and Richland Creek recreational areas in the Buffalo Ranger District had the experience of being awakened by the crashing of trash can lids, swaying of the camper or scratching on the tent during the summer.

Apparently the bears have been visiting the camping areas to feed in the trash cans and browse around as the campers leave.

Little said the bears would climb into vehicles with open windows in search of cookies, candy and bread.

Little warned that anyone visiting these areas should not try to feed the bears.

The bears were stocked in the Ozarks by the Arkansas Game

MR. AND MRS. TERRY EVERETT

On Saturday evening, September 14 at the Unity Baptist Church, Miss Elaine Gilley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Portus Gilley, became the bride of Terry Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Everett of New Hope, Ark.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gordon Renshaw before an altar enhanced by baskets of white gladioli and seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers. Before the exchange of vows, Mrs. Joe D. Eason, organist, played a program of wedding music. Mrs. Jack Brown, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Haskell Jones, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer." Candles were lighted by Misses Karen Grant and Teresa Wright.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length dress of white satin designed with a round neckline, long sleeves and a full skirt. Lace medallions and seed pearls embellished the dress and the chapel train, which was attached at the shoulders. The bride's finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls and tulle. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Yvonne Barber was the maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of magenta crepe radiance trimmed with pink. With it she wore a modified bonnet in matching shades and carried a nosegay and Fish Commission.

The editor of the Harrison Daily News noted in his column that the time of the year has come when mothers breathe a sigh of relief.

of pink and magenta carnations. Miss Pam Everett of New Hope, sister of the groom, and Miss Lora Ann Treece were bridesmaids. Their pink dresses trimmed with magenta were fashioned like that of the honor attendant, and they also carried nosegays of pink and magenta carnations.

Miss Tammy Crisp of Carthage, Tex., niece of the groom, was the flower girl, and Master Clay Ward was the ring bearer. John Crisp of Carthage, Tex., served his brother-in-law as best man. Groomsman were Gary Roberts of New Hope and Michael Prescott of Columbus. Ushers were Mike Reid and Randy Boone, both of New Hope.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gilley wore a blue crepe dress trimmed with lace and matching accessories, while the mother of the groom, Mrs. Everett, wore mint green with matching accessories. Each had an orchid corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with pink net and centered with a silver and crystal centerpiece holding white roses and candles. Elsewhere in the reception room were decorations of tiny white doves in delicate cages topped with white satin ribbons.

Members of the house party included: Mrs. Miles Laham, Mrs. Bill Jones, Mrs. Luke Treece, Mrs. Freddie Verser, Mrs. Buell Verser, Miss Sandra Lively of Columbus, Mrs. Martin Barber, and Mrs. Carl D. Ward.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Texas, the bride chose for travel an orange knit costume suit with matching accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Everett will reside in Texarkana, where he is employed at the Lone Star Ordinance Plant.

Study Made of Cancer Cases in U.S.

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A detailed study to be made of all cancer cases occurring in 11 areas of the United States from 1969 to 1971 was announced today.

The third national cancer survey, to be directed by Dr. John C. Bailar III, of the National Cancer Institute, will update similar projects completed in 1937 and 1947.

For the first time, a sample of cases among an estimated population of more than 22 million will be studied in detail to determine the economic effect of cancer on the individual, his family and the community, Bailar said.

Doctors, health agencies and hospitals in these selected areas will gather information on amount of time lost from work because of cancer, cost of treatment, sources of payment and use of medical facilities.

Dizzy Chicks Are Helping Scientists

DAVIS, Calif. (AP) — The dizziest 96 chickens in the world are helping U.S. scientists study the physical problems which astronauts will face in long interplanetary trips.

"It's possible to paint a very dismal picture of what lies ahead for astronauts on the basis of our work," says Dr. Arthur H. Smith of the University of California at Davis.

But there's no reason to cancel the space program, he said Tuesday, because "necessary steps will be taken to offset disturbances for the human body."

His experiments, in which the roosters rotate continually with 10-minute feeding breaks once a day, are sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The roosters spin at 30 revolutions per minute on a double deck centrifuge. On the centrifuge, the weight of the roosters triples, because of increased gravitational pull on them, scientists say.

Smith, a physiologist, said "man in space for long periods will find his body decalcified. He will not be able to stand up without fracturing bones," he said. "All his muscles will shrivel up including those around his blood vessels."

"He will be overloaded with fat which he may not be able to use," he said. "Certain drugs can counteract the physiological problems man is sure to encounter. The chickens are good guinea pigs, he said, because their relative heart-to-head distance is similar to man's, they stand erect, and have other similarities in the circulatory system."

Rainout Delays Bid by McLain

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
A sympathetic cloudburst gave the Detroit Tigers an extra day to recover from their first pennant celebration in 23 years.

The Tigers, who wrapped up the American League flag and celebrated with champagne showers the night before had their game against the New York Yankees postponed by rain Wednesday night.

That was just fine with the bleary-eyed town of Detroit which went wild Tuesday night when the Tigers clinched their first flag since 1945.

The rainout delayed Denny McLain's bid for a 31st victory. McLain, hoping to match the total reached by Robert "Lefty" Grove in 1931, was to go against 20-game winner Mel Stottlemyre in today's makeup game.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Boston shut out Baltimore 4-0, and Minnesota split a doubleheader with California, winning the first game 4-3 and dropping the nightcap by the same score. Washington's game at Cleveland was also rained out.

In the National League, St. Louis' Ray Washburn no-hit San Francisco 2-0, making it two no-hitters in as many days at Candlestick Park. Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 2-1, Atlanta blanked Houston 2-0. The Chicago Cubs trounced the New York Mets 7-2 and Cincinnati downed Los Angeles 2-0.

Roger Nelson pitched six hitless innings against Boston before the Red Sox knocked him out with a three-run flurry in the seventh and went on to beat the Orioles.

Nelson retired 18 straight batters and struck out 13 after walking the leadoff man in the first inning. But Mike Andrews opened the seventh with a single. A walk to Carl Yastrzemski and Ken Harrelson's single loaded the bases.

Reggie Smith singled for two runs knocking out Nelson and the Sox added another when Joe Foy drew a bases-loaded walk against reliever Pete Richert. Smith's sacrifice fly brought home another run in the eighth. Dick Ellsworth and Lee Stange combined for the seven-hit shut-out.

Bruce Look singled home a pair of runs in the fourth inning, snapping a 1-1 tie and moving Minnesota toward its first-game victory over California. Dean Chance got the victory with late-inning help from Ron Peranowski. Chance, 15-15, struck out seven, giving him 223 for the season and establishing a Minnesota club record. The old mark was 221 by Camilo Pascual in 1961.

In the nightcap, Jim Fregosi tripled home two runs in the first inning and built another with some daring base running in the seventh to earn the Angels the split.

Fregosi's triple drove in Jay

Johstone and Jarvis Tatum who'd singled in the first. In the seventh, Fregosi bunted for a hit and then raced to third when catcher George Mitterwald was slow to retrieve Dave Boswell's wild pitch. He scored on Jim Spencer's sacrifice fly.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fort Smith Northside plays four of its six Class AAA opponents in cozy Grizzly Stadium, but this week the Grizzlies are on the road.

The top-ranked Grizzlies play at El Dorado. The Wildcats have scored seven touchdowns in two victories, but the Grizzlies' goal line has not been crossed.

Northside's starters haven't played a total of four quarters yet, but this could be their toughest outing to date. Whether home or away, coach Bill Stancil will have his Grizzlies ready.

Springdale, fourth-ranked in the Associated Press poll and one of the favorites in the Western Division of Class AAA, figures to get a thorough test from St. Anne's Buffaloes. St. Anne's is the top-ranked team in Class A and has already disposed of one AAA opponent.

The verdict may be in on Tommy Brasher's rebuilding program at Hot Springs after Friday night. The Class AAA Trojans have won two straight and play host to Lakeside, a highly regarded Class A club.

Saints Think Atkins Should Be Commended

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Losers seldom produce players of the week but New Orleans threatens to succeed from the Union if Doug Atkins of the Saints doesn't get the call for defense this week in the National Football League. They say even the Cleveland Browns will agree.

It seems Atkins, 38, celebrated the start of his 16th pro year last Sunday with 13 unassisted tackles. The 6-foot-6, 270-pound defensive end also took his turn

Cardinals Believe in Eye for Eye

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth—but a no-hitter for a no-hitter? What kind of revenge is that?

That's Cardinal revenge. Few teams have gotten the edge on the World Series-bound Cardinals this season, and so when Gaylord Perry of San Francisco clipped them with a no-hitter Tuesday, in Candlestick Park, the Cardinals naturally took offense.

Less than 24 hours later Ray Washburn retaliated for St. Louis and stopped the Giants without a hit for a 2-1 victory Wednesday, the first time no-hitters have been pitched in successive games in the same ballpark. Now that's real revenge.

Washburn, a 30-year-old right-hander coming back all the way this season after played by arm trouble much of the time since his first full season with the Cardinals in 1961, had more trouble with his control than with the Giants. He walked five, and struck out eight, in raising his record to 13-7.

The Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 7-2, Atlanta nipped Houston 2-1, Philadelphia got by Pittsburgh 2-1 and Cincinnati blanked Los Angeles 2-0.

In the only American League contests, Boston shut out Baltimore 4-0 and Minnesota tripped California 4-3 before losing 4-3 in a doubleheader. Washington was rained out at Cleveland as were the New York Yankees at Detroit.

Washburn and Perry outdid Ernest Koob and Robert Groom of the St. Louis Browns, the only pitchers to hurl no-hitters on successive days in the same ballpark. But Koob and Groom did it over a span of three games—Koob on May 5 and Groom in the second game of a doubleheader on May 6.

"I've been with the Cardinals 23 years and never saw a no-hitter before," smiled Manager Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals. Lon Warneke was the last Cardinal to turn the trick—in 1940.

"It was my first no-hitter since high school," said Washburn, who had a 12-9 for St. Louis in 1962 before injuring his arm the next year. Thanks to the Cardinals' patience, he has slowly worked his way back after years of 5-3, 3-4, 9-11, 11-9 and 10-7.

Bob Bolin of the Giants matched the shutout until the seventh when Mike Shannon doubled home Orlando Cepeda. Dick Schofield doubled in the eighth and eventually scored on Curt Flood's infield hit.

Washburn's gem was the fifth in the majors this season and third in the National League.

The Giants clung to second place despite the loss, although Cincinnati climbed within two games as Gerry Arrigo and Ted Abernathy hurled a four-hitter and Tony Perez doubled in one run and scored another.

The Cubs remained 1½ games back and in the battle for second place as Jim Hickman broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning with a run-scoring single and Adolfo Phillips followed with his 11th homer.

Loser Jerry Koonsman, 18-11 homered for the Mets, who broke their own major league strike out record of 1,129 for one season by fanning four times for 1,132.

The loss left the Mets still tied with Houston for last place after Phil Niekro of Atlanta out down the Astros on three hits and Hank and Tommie Aaron doubled home runs in the first inning.

Johnny Briggs singled home a run off Bob Veale in the seventh inning, giving Jerry Johnson and Philadelphia their victory. The hit followed Tony Taylor's run-scoring ground out.

flattening Frank Ryan, Cleveland's quarterback.

Despite the heroics of Atkins, Cleveland won the ball game 24-10 on interceptions by Ernie Kellerman, who almost became the goat on a pass interference call, and Bill Glass.

"He's unbelievable," said Coach Tom Fears of the Saints, describing Atkins. "He just breaks the laws of nature."

Blanton Collier, coach of the Browns, said to Atkins, "Dog, gone it, aren't you too old to still be playing the game?" Collier was an assistant coach under Paul Brown when Cleveland drafted Atkins as its No. 1 choice in 1953 out of Tennessee.

"I'm not satisfied with my performance," Atkins told staffer Ben Thomas. "The fact that we lost takes it all away. Let's PITCHING—Ray Washburn, Cardinals, fired a no-hitter striking out eight and walking five as he pitched St. Louis to a 2-0 victory over San Francisco. Following Gaylord Perry's no-hitter for the Giants Tuesday, Washburn's effort made it the first time in major league history no-hitters have been pitched in successive games in one ballpark.

BATTING—Jim Fregosi, Angels, tripled home two runs and singled and scored the winning run as California beat Minnesota 4-3 after the Twins won the opener 4-3 despite Fregosi's two hits and two runs scored.

Kellerman also qualified for the Browns. Four plays after his interference call, he picked off Bill Kilmer pass that led to the go-ahead touchdown.

Hope Meets DeQueen Team Here

By RALPH HOUTON
Star Sportswriter

On the year's anniversary of the Hope Bobcats' last win tomorrow night, the opposition of Leopards from DeQueen will be trying their hardest to extend that streak.

For the record, DeQueen is weaker in personnel than the Bobcats. However, the point cannot be over-emphasized that Hope probably had a better team than each of our first two opponents, and the Cats have an 0-1-1 record to show for it.

New coach Wayne Freppon has begun his tenure by setting up a basic straight-T offensive alignment with variations of the slot formation and the T lineup and a pro-set in necessary situations. Freppon has changed the Leopards' defense from the 5-4 to a combination of the pros' 4-4-3 setup with a monster man.

This monster man makes the defense unbalanced, and actually does leave the opposite side vulnerable to sweeps. This will not occur much, though, because the monster frequently will line up to the wide side of the field. This, in effect, will change several of the Bobcats' blocking rules.

When the Leopards do line up on offense, they will have eight who started offensively last year, and another two who started late in the year. This creates the welcome sight of a big and experienced line, though there is the problem of depth.

At one end will be converted tackle Jerry Cooper, a 170-pound junior who has really matured thus far and is a capable receiver. On the other side will be another junior, Jackie Bell, who at 175 is a definite future college prospect. Aside from his size (6'2"), and big hands, Bell can also boom the ball when he punts.

Both Glen Knod and Tommy Little started at the offensive tackle slots last year, but this year they have been moved in one side of the line, as the left guard and left tackle. Knod, a big 185-pound senior, is a polished blocker as is Little (165), who is also very quick on plays which call for him to pull. At center is senior Dennis Turner, who at 180 last year could lay "em on the ground on defense, and how he takes over the snapping duties.

On the right side of the line more size is available without quite as much experience. Junior Johnny Tollett (186) played on the defensive unit last year, and now takes over the right guard spot fulltime. Beside him at right tackle is Mike Brewer, a 195-pound senior who gained 35 pounds in the off-season weights program.

The backfield is very solid, with all four having started at one time or another. Dickie Van Beber, now a 140-pound junior, made his starting debut against the Bobcats last year and showed his potential as a passer later in the season. He is small at 5'6", though, and is not very fast.

Backing up Van Beber is likely one of the fastest backfields in this territory. Junior Twaunt Wilson (140) is a speedster who returned kicks last year before earning a starting berth late in the season. At the other half-back is senior Mac Larseingue, a sub-50 performer in the 440 dash, Larseingue, who clocks the 100 in around 10.2, sat out last year after starting most of his sophomore season.

After those two swifties, who needs a fullback? But this could really turn the DeQueen offense into a power before the season is up, because at fullback the Leopards boast Ronnie Campbell, a 175-pound senior who was the leading ground-gainer as well as top receiver last year for the team.

That strong offense won't win games, though; it takes a defense. And the Leopards have allowed 55 points in their first two games, which could be just what the stale Hope offense needs. Two sophs start on defense, but they both have great size.

A four-man front will line-up headon with the Bobcat guards and ends, and probably over our slotback in the case of a split end. Over the ends will be Brewer and Knod, the two starting tackles from the offense. This pair will have a linebacker behind them, and they will frequently stunt in and out. Behind Knod on the left side will be soph Richard Stepp (180), who is unproven. In back of Brewer will be guard Little, who is another of the eight two-way starters.

Head-up on the Hope guards will be Johnny Tollett on the right and soph Bobby Davis (195) manning the left side. Between them at middle linebacker will be Jackie Bell, who really needs to be in condition, what with being on all the specialty teams as well as offense and defense.

Quarterback Van Beber will line up at monster, and this shows a glaring weakness in DeQueen's depth, that the QB has to go both ways also. In the secondary will be Wilson and Campbell at the halfbacks, and at safety will be Nicky Hofert (145), a fast junior who is new to the position.

Overall, it is easy to see the depth problem which coach Wayne Freppon faces. Each two-way starter, of whom there are eight, will prefer either the offense or defense, and will sensibly give his top effort there while saving energy on the other side.

This is the one mark that gives the status of rebuilding to the Leopards, as they have their third coach in as many years. But should the Leopards play inspired ball throughout, they could and will be double trouble to the Bobcats. It should be quite interesting to see just how much trouble that will be.

Tonight is the night for the Bobkittens, as they enter their home opener against DeQueen's juniors at Hammons Stadium. The squad went through a spirited session yesterday in shorts, and should be ready to go come 7:30 p.m.

2nd No Hit Game Almost a Miracle

By HAROLD V. STREETER
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Twice in less than 24 hours either the San Francisco Giants or the St. Louis Cardinals went hitless as the Cardinals' Ray Washburn and the Giants' Gaylord Perry tossed consecutive no-hitters, the fourth and fifth in the major leagues this baseball season.

Perry walked two in no-hitting the National League pennant winners 1-0 Tuesday night and Washburn, surviving five walks, did the same, 2-0, Wednesday.

It was the first time in baseball history that successive no-hitters were pitched in the same park, and fewer than 15,000 fans—4,703 of them in the stands Wednesday—saw the masterpieces.

Despite the walks, caused by a wild sinkerball, Washburn was in complete control.

The 30-year-old Kirkland, Wash., right-hander, now 13-7, got the only run he needed in the seventh when Orlando Cepeda singled with one out, went to second on John Edwards' grounder and scored on Mike Shannon's double.

St. Louis scored again in the eighth as Dick Schofield opened with a double, went to third on Washburn's sacrifice and came in on Curt Flood's infield single.

The only other time two no-hitters were pitched on successive days in the same park was in 1917 when the St. Louis Browns did it against the Chicago White Sox. But it was over a span of three games.

Ernest Koob no-hit the White Sox 1-0 on May 5 and Robert Groom repeated the feat 3-0 in the second game of a doubleheader on May 6.

"I got around to thinking about a no-hitter in the sixth," said Washburn. "By then, the boys were saying, 'Let's get some more hits' or 'Let's get something about a no-hitter.'"

"I got up to the full count several times. That probably was from not wanting to give in on a no-hitter."

"You can't make mistakes when you have fellows like Willie Mays and Willie McCovey coming up. But after I got Ron Hunt out in the ninth, I felt like I was in even against Mays and McCovey."

Mays grounded to third for the second out and Washburn got two quick strikes on McCovey before throwing a ball.

McCovey, the league home leader with 34, lined the next pitch to Flood for the final out.

Reliever Joe Hoerner started warming up in the bullpen in the seventh after Washburn walked Hunt and McCovey. With one out, they advanced on Jim Hart's ground out. But Washburn retired the side by striking out Dick Dietz.

"I've waited 16 years for this and what a way to go out," exclaimed Cardinal outfielder Roger Maris, who is retiring after the World Series.

Washburn said he didn't get nervous until the end.

Cepeda remarked that maybe Washburn felt confident but there was plenty of tension for everybody else in the late innings.

Fired Umpires Going to Senators

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine, fired by American League President Joe Cronin Monday, were scheduled to present their case today at a meeting in Washington with Senators Jacob Javits and William Goodell and Rep. Alexander Pirnie, all of New York.

The Utica Press reported Wednesday night that Salerno, of Utica, and Valentine, of Little Rock, Ark., would meet with the lawmakers before going to New York for a news conference and television appearance.

The umpires' attorneys, Jerry Milano and Harry Hanna, both of Cleveland, also were to attend the Washington meeting, which was set up at the invitation of the lawmakers.

Cronin said he fired Salerno, who has worked in the league for 12 years, and Valentine, who was hired in 1962, for incompetence. The umpires insist they were cut loose because of their labor activities in attempting to organize American League umpires and join in an association with their National League colleagues.

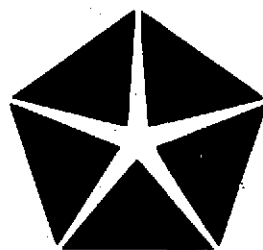

Salerno, 37, and Valentine, 35, said in Utica they were confident a major league umpires association would be formed within a week. "There's not much we can do until the association is formed and doing business," they said.

They took exception to Cronin's statement that he had no knowledge of any organizing activities and that his umpire, scouting team—former AL umpires Cal Hubbard and Charlie Berry—had weighed the qualifications of the pair for some time before they were given their notices Monday.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! in this newspaper.

FATHER DOESN'T KNOW BEST
Dear Helen: Several weeks ago our church group sponsored a bowling party. My date was a girl I'd never taken out before, and we had a blast. I asked her what time she was supposed to be home and she said 11:30.

We got there shortly after 11:00. I stepped inside to say goodnight, when her father stormed out of the kitchen, followed by her mother. He yelled at me in Dutch and glared at her in anger.

Then he grabbed my date, pushed her into the living room, and I was shocked to see him turn her across his knee, pull up her skirt, and spank her with a hairbrush.
Of course I left in a hurry.

My date lied to me. She was supposed to be home by 10:00.
I would like to ask her out again, but after this embarrassing business, how do I approach
her? — UNHAPPY WITNESS

Dear Un: . . . By telephone.
And pretend you never saw the unhappy incident. When a girl has a big father problem, she needs a very tactful boyfriend. — H

Dear Helen: I am 16. The man
I love is 36, married with two children. He can't stand his wife because she gets on his nerves.
He says if I'll wait until I'm 19, he will marry me, as he is think-which are standard in modern expert play. They show a good six card suit and just below an opening bid in high card strength.

North's double was normal and East raised to three hearts in an effort to jam his opponents' bidding.

It failed utterly. No one was going to shut out Edgar Kaplan, one of the world's greatest players who sat South. Not that anyone needed to be a great player to find a bid with Edgar's hand and Edgar found a four no-trump bid.

At this point West flew the flag with a five heart call.
Sidney Lazard, who held the North hand, might well have doubled to show dislike for a slam. He and Edgar use the double of an interference bid for this purpose, but Sidney rather fancied his hand and did not want to discourage Edgar.

Edgar's response was a jump to six spades and now all he had to do was to make it. West held the first trick and shifted to the six of clubs.
Edgar won and started on trumps. The West bidding was enough to cause Edgar to try a finesse against East rather than a drop play. Then Edgar ran off the clubs and noted that West had started with four of the suit plus six hearts and one spade. That left him with only two diamonds so a finesse against East's queen of diamonds was clearly indicated. It worked and one more flag had waved unsuccessfully.

★CARD Sense★

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	5 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.

You, South, hold:
♠ A Q 8 7 6 ♡ A K 9 5 4 3 ♦ 2 ♣ 2

What do you do now?

A—Bid five no-trump to ask for kings.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid five no-trump and your partner bids six diamonds to show one king. What do you do now?

Early Ballast Tanks

The forerunner of the modern ballast tank used to submerge submarines was first proposed by an unknown English inventor in 1747. His proposal was to fill goatskin bags with water and attach them to the hull of the vessel, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Doctor Should Determine
Drug Use During Pregnancy

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What effect will Dex-edrine prescribed by a doctor have on my unborn baby?

A—There is no evidence that dextroamphetamine (Dex-edrine) will harm your baby, but be sure the doctor who is prescribing it knows that you are pregnant. In general, all drugs should be held to a minimum during pregnancy—especially if they are not necessary for your survival.

Q—My obstetrician is giving me thyroid tablets to help me get pregnant. How do they work and are there any side effects?

A—Thyroid extract will help only if you have a definite thyroid deficiency. The side effects associated with too large a dosage include rapid pulse, jitters, insomnia, headache, sweating, diarrhea and tremors.

Q—As a result of the mask of pregnancy which I have had with all three of my pregnancies I have permanent marks on my face. Can anything be done for this and for acne scars?

A—The mask of pregnancy or chloasma is a patchy area or areas of light-brown pigmentation appearing on the face. It usually fades after the baby is born. When it doesn't, the best treatment is the skillful application of masking cosmetics. As for your acne scars, surgical planing has been advocated in the past but most surgeons are now abandoning this process for acne scars because, if the planing removes only the superficial layers of skin, the scars remain. If the planing is carried deep enough to remove the scars, the process itself will cause scarring.
That leaves us with no really satisfactory treatment for these scars.

Q—My husband claims that through my own neglect I contracted a head cold which

Nixon in Pitch for GI Votes

By FRED HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is making a special pitch for servicemen's vote, pledging to bring them back "to a peaceful home in a secure America."

The Republican presidential candidate has bought full-page advertisements in three specialized newspapers which claim about 485,000 servicemen readers around the world.

The ads, appearing in the current issues of the nonofficial Army Times, Navy Times and Air Force Times, quote Nixon's declaration that "it is essential that we end this war, and end it quickly."

"Under the heading, 'Your Help is Needed,' the appeal says:

"Richard Nixon and Gov. (Spiro T.) Agnew have served actively in the defense of our country. They know your problems; know your double value as citizens and as part of our vital defense system.

"They ask your vote and your interest to help restore decency and stability to our national life and clear a better society for all.

"Your vote will also help determine whose hands will steer the defenses of our 'ship of state'.

"Richard Nixon and Gov. Agnew are pledged to renew the kind of home and country you want to return to. They are pledged to bring you back to a peaceful home in a secure America.

"Your vote is all we need."

At the bottom, servicemen are invited to contribute money to the Nixon-Agnew campaign.

The advertisement includes a form to accompany donations.

Long-time observers said they were unable to recall any similar paid ad aimed directly at the soldier vote in a presidential campaign.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate, has issued position papers in which he has outlined what he would do for servicemen.

Among other things, Humphrey has said "the military pay system is antiquated and needs thorough overhaul to assure that compensation and benefits for uniformed personnel are more equitable and more comparable with standards in civilian life."

big servicemen's vote. Traditionally, the Pentagon get-out-the-vote campaign is couched in nonpartisan terms. Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has just filmed a special message to the 3.5 million Americans in uniform, warning that failure to vote "makes freedom grow flabby."

Atlantic 3 Rocket Out of Control

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A 10-story-tall Delta rocket tumbled out of control Wednesday night and exploded high above the Atlantic, ruining an $11 million attempt to orbit the world's most powerful communications satellite.

The launch director said a faulty guidance system caused the trouble that brought fiery destruction to the spacecraft Atlantic 3.

"It seems quite clear there was an in-flight failure at 20 seconds after liftoff" in the gyroscope system needed to steer the three-stage rocket, said Robert Gray, launch director for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Eighty-three seconds later, the Delta pitched back toward earth and exploded, sending pieces of the shattered rocket and its Atlantic 3 payload plummeting into the ocean about 10 miles offshore.

Officials said it exploded before the range safety officer had time to destroy it.

Atlantic 3, owned by the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium—Intelsat—was to have been the first in a global network of new switchboard satellites that would link most of the world. It also was to have been used to relay telecasts of the Olympic games from Mexico City to Europe.

A NASA experimental spacecraft, Applications Technology Satellite 3, now in position over Brazil, will be used for the Olympic telecasts instead, said officials of Comsat Corp., manager for Intelsat.

Intelsat has two less powerful satellites now operating over the Atlantic but they are not in position to relay the Olympics to Europe.

Television coverage of the games to the United States is to be carried overland by microwave instead of via satellite, and the Japanese have made arrangements to relay telecasts via Intelsat spacecraft over the Pacific, officials said.

Gray said the launch problem could have originated anywhere in the circuitry of the Delta rocket's gyroscope or autopilot system, and an investigation team was trying to pin down the faulty component.

Both Sides Dissatisfied With Council

By WILLIAM N. OATES
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Both Arabs and Israelis are openly dissatisfied with another Security Council resolution insisting that they observe the 18-month-old cease-fire.

The 15-nation council adopted the resolution 140 Wednesday, ending a two-week debate on Israeli and Egyptian complaints of cease-fire violations. Algeria abstained from the vote.

The resolution insisted that the council's 1967 cease-fire call "must be rigorously respected," and urged all parties to cooperate fully with Gunnar Jarring of Sweden, U.N. special representative to the Middle East, "in the speedy fulfillment" of his mission to seek a peaceful settlement of the June 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Teohani said the action did not satisfy Israel's complaints that Egypt killed two Israeli soldiers and captured a third in an ambush Aug. 26, and started an exchange of fire across the Suez Canal Sept. 8.

Don't Debate, Wallace Tells Mr. Nixon

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George C. Wallace says Republican Richard M. Nixon should not accept an offer to debate other presidential candidates on national television.

"I think he should refuse," Wallace said, "because if he decides to do it then we will start talking about his record and the record of the Republican party and there is no way he can win."

But he did not promise that it would observe the cease-fire. And he defended actions which he said Arabs in the occupied territories took "in defense of their legitimate rights."

He accused Israel of launching attacks, distorting facts and pressuring "certain quarters" for more arms and money.

Mohamed Awad El-Kony of Egypt, which has denied ambushing the Israelis and complained that Israel started the exchange of fire, said Egypt had always indicated its readiness to cooperate with Jarring and implement the council resolution.

Praises U.S. Action in Czech Crisis

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield said today that one of the victims of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia could be the treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

In a report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the Montana Democrat said the pact is in danger because of "skepticism which the precipitous Soviet action has undoubtedly aroused among the signatory nations to which nuclear weapons are not to proliferate under the treaty."

Should these nonnuclear nations ratify the treaty, Mansfield said, "they will have entrusted, in effect the nuclear aspects of their defense to the principal nuclear powers, one of which is the Soviet Union."

"What they have just witnessed in Czechoslovakia is hardly likely to provide assurances that this trust is well placed."

Mansfield's report was based on a brief visit he made to Czechoslovakia prior to the invasion Aug. 20.

It is most regrettable, he declared, that the invasion jeopardizes "constructive interchange" between East and West. "In recent years, exchanges in tourism, trade and talent have done a great deal to erode the wall of fear of an earlier period," he noted.

Mansfield praised the Johnson administration's restraint during the crisis. "Unlike Hungary a decade ago," he said, "there has been no empty talk of liberating Czechoslovakia. There has been no inadvertently cruel misreading of the Czechoslovak people."

The Czech leaders, he said, "sought no special assistance from this nation and none was offered."

This restraint, however, does not mean that the United States would recognize spheres of influences, Mansfield declared.

We care

REMEMBER WHEN PRESERVES WERE DIFFICULT TO BUY?

You do, if you remember the 1920's. In those days preserves were a seasonal item. Not enough berries were grown because producers didn't know how to keep them. So, we sent an expert to the Northwest (that's great berry country!), who assisted the growers in developing a method of freezing the berries as soon as they were harvested. We experimented for a year. The results were great. Now, at last, we could buy enough quality berries to make Ann Page Preserves available to everyone—all the time.

Today, we buy berries by the train-load. We have to. Our Ann Page Preserves are that popular. As a matter of fact, if you took a year's production of Ann Page Preserves, Jams, and Jellies, they would cover a piece of toast ten square miles in size. Are Ann Page Preserves a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

ing, Mich., attorney, criticized passage, saying "no one can say a law is going to save a life. There is no indication that the availability of firearms has anything to do with crimes."

The NRA, which claims a membership of more than one million, long has opposed gun control measures.

The over-all bill was approved 70 to 17.
Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., made his first appearance on the Senate floor since the slaying of his brother Robert.

Kennedy showed up just in time to vote for the registration-licensing amendment, introduced by Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md. He took no part in debate and sat with his chin in his hand.

The Senate bill bans not only the mail order sales of rifles and shotguns, but also ammunition for all weapons.

The House version excludes mail order sales of ammunition for rifles and shotguns, plus rifle, 22 caliber shells.

The Senate bill would make a sentence of life imprisonment possible for anyone committing a federal crime of violence—such as rape, murder, arson, theft or kidnapping—while armed with a gun.

The House measure provides mandatory sentences for people convicted of using a gun in a federal felony, but the sentences fall short of life.

There was strong support in the House, however, for writing in the life-sentence provision.

The Senate bill also would bar over-the-counter sales of fire arms to nonresidents of a state unless the states are adjoining and the laws of both permit such sales.

A buyer would have to submit an affidavit of eligibility and the seller would have to delay delivery seven days to give police a chance to object.

The House version would permit also over-the-counter sales to those who sign an affidavit that their firearm was lost, stolen or had become inoperative.

Prohibitions on sales of handguns became law earlier this year in the omnibus crime control bill.

Both the House and Senate bills would require federal licensing of dealers.

Court to Take Up Ft. Smith Workers Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court is scheduled to hear oral arguments Monday on the City of Fort Smith's appeal from a ruling ordering the city to reinstate city employees and to recognize the collective bargaining representative chosen by the employees.

The city was ordered by Chancellor Warren O. Kimbrough to reinstate a number of city employees who were fired or walked off their jobs in a labor dispute in June.

A majority of the city's non-uniformed employees apparently had chosen Arkansas State Council 38 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees to represent them.

Kimbrough ruled that the city must bargain collectively with the employees because of a 1947 statute that was enacted to carry out the state's "right-to-work" amendment.

The high court also is to hear oral arguments on a case testing the state's 1967 Freedom of Information Act.

North Little Rock newspapermen filed a lawsuit challenging a private meeting of the North Little Rock City Council from which reporters were excluded.

City officials said they were meeting with their attorney and that the attorney-client relationship should be protected under the act and that the public could be barred from such meetings.

Robert S. McCord, editor of the North Little Rock Times at the time and now associate editor of the Arkansas Democrat, and Ralph Patrick, who was a reporter for the Times and now is managing editor, won the suit before Pulaski County Circuit Court Judge Warren E. Wood.

Directors Suspend 2 G&F Officers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two state Game and Fish Commission enforcement officers have been suspended, Director Hugh Hackler said Wednesday.

He said the men were suspended pending an investigation into an alleged dove baiting incident on the farm of Raymond Farris of Biscoe, a commissioner who faces ouster proceedings.

Suspended were W.H. "Pete" Corpiel of Biscoe and Troy Staggs of Brinkley. Hackler said the suspension would remain in effect until federal game management officers conclude an investigation.

Hackler said the suspensions resulted from testimony by Corpiel and Staggs at a Sept. 3 hearing in Little Rock on Farris' ability to face ouster hearings. Farris is being treated for tuberculosis.

Corpiel and Staggs said they had put seed in a field on the Farris farm on Farris' instructions Aug. 29. A dove shoot allegedly took place Sept. 1, involving the two wardens and six other men, none of whom was Farris. The others were not identified.

Law prohibits shooting over a baited field, although a farmer apparently can put as much seed on a field as he wants. Hackler says the Farris field has been closed.

Objection of Rockefeller Is Refused

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, refusing to recognize an objection of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, notified the 75 persons chosen Monday to serve as third members of county election commissions to file their oaths without delay.

The notification apparently opens the door for the Republicans to take their fight to court.

Bryant said that as secretary to the state Election Commission, which made the selections, he had to abide by the majority vote.

Rockefeller, chairman and one of three Republicans on the state commission, refused to recognize 16 of the nominees voted by the Democrats with their 6-3 voting margin on the commission. Rockefeller chose to recognize the nominees selected by the other two Republicans on the commission.

He said that the 16 were not representative of the Republican party. The state Supreme Court said recently that the third members must only represent—and not necessarily be members of—the majority party, which under law is the GOP.

State Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock proposed Wednesday that the county election judges and clerks be selected the third members without regard to party affiliation.

He suggested that in instances where county election commissioners couldn't agree, the dissenting member should be allowed to designate one judge and one clerk.

Alagood said he would ask the Legislative Council to study his proposal and recommend it to the 1969 legislature.

Bryant said Wednesday he had to act since Sept. 23 is the deadline for his office to send the official Nov. 5 general election ballot to the county election commissions.

Browns Will Be Gunning for Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The Cleveland Browns come into their National Football League game with the Dallas Cowboys Sunday in the Cotton Bowl with something to prove—that they don't blow the big ball games.

"That's something the players are sick and tired of hearing," says publicity director Nate Wallack of the Browns.

"They keep hearing that they choke in the big games—that they can't whip the good teams in the league like Green Bay and Dallas."

Wallack said a 55-7 loss to Green Bay and a 52-14 loss to Dallas in the Eastern Conference championship game were examples of the ill fortune that befell Cleveland last year.

"We will be trying to prove we can play a good game against one of the good teams in the league," said Wallack.

Both the Cowboys and Browns won their openers, Dallas routing Detroit 59-13 and Cleveland overcoming New Orleans 24-10 in the rain and mud.

Fair Warning

In a signed advertisement in this newspaper last Tuesday seven Hope ministers declared they would oppose legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages by the local option proposal which will appear on the November general election ballot. That is their privilege as individual citizens — but let me give this fair warning in advance of the wet-dry campaign: Prohibition campaign speeches delivered from the pulpit or permitting tax-exempt church property to be used for campaign organizational meetings might just possibly cost church members the right to deduct contributions from their individual federal income tax returns.

This warning, therefore, is directed not to the ministers but to the official church boards who are responsible for operating church property in strict compliance with the tax regulations laid down by the Internal Revenue Service and upheld by the United States Supreme Court.

The law declares that tax-exempt institutions and members making tax-exempt contributions shall lose that tax-exemption if they engage in activities tending "to influence legislation." Campaigning for or against prohibition, involving a law to put men in jail for selling alcoholic drinks, is a flagrant example of "influencing legislation."

In 1955 and 1957 your editor circulated state-wide petitions seeking a popular vote to correct what he considered to be abuses of Arkansas' sales tax legislation and sought to deduct from his personal tax returns his out-of-pocket expense for the petitions only — not the election campaign — but the Internal Revenue Service ruled the petitions tended "to influence legislation" and his expenses were therefore non-deductible. Your editor appealed to the U.S. Tax Court, the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals, St. Louis, and finally the United States Supreme Court — and all of them upheld the Internal Revenue Service. It cost me $18,000 personally to prove a point — the point being that we now know exactly what the law is concerning the tax-deductibility of contributions tending "to influence legislation."

More recently, the Sierra Club on the West Coast, organized to help conserve natural resources, and its members have lost tax-deductibility because the Sierra Club published newspaper advertisements attacking proposed dams in the Grand Canyon and the proposed destruction of California's redwood forests.

These ominous tax developments have occurred since Hempstead county's last local option election — therefore it is only right that I give Hope's official church boards due warning of the tax penalties they may put upon their members if they permit church property or church sponsorship to become involved in the wet-dry campaign which lies ahead of us.

The ministers are dry, your editor is wet — and the people will choose.

But the choice must be a fair one — you can not pit tax-exempt institutions against taxpaying citizens without losing your tax-exempt status.

That's the law — and I have the resources, alone if necessary, to see that the law is enforced.

Stamp Orders to Run High

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Postmaster Roy L. Sharpe said Wednesday that the Little Rock office expects to receive orders for nearly a half million first-day covers of the Arkansas River navigation commemorative stamp.

The stamp is to be issued Oct. 1 at Little Rock.

The stamp will show a ship's wheel against a background that includes a barge and a power transmission tower. The words "Arkansas River Navigation" will be printed across the bottom.

City Police Investigate 3 Accidents

City Police reported three accidents here yesterday. One involved a car driven by Donald Hugh Turner which was hit from behind by another driven by Melissa Brooks.

The accident occurred at Third and Shover and Officers Shirley and Neal estimated damage at about $200.

On Highway 67 and Hervey cars driven by Jennie Lee Beene and Dub Flowers collided with minor damage resulting, City Officer McCulley reported.

At Third and Walnut trucks driven by Ray Ward and Wayne Campbell collided with an estimated $650 damage to both vehicles. Officer Neal charged Ward with running a red light.

Animals Like People Can Be Corrupted in Any Welfare State

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Animals as well as people can be corrupted in a welfare state. If you stroll through a public park you will note that the squirrels, once symbols of independent thrift, now spend about as much time soliciting free peanuts from passers-by as they do in scouring the grass for acorns to bury.

You used to be able to tell when a man had just been to the barber by the way he smelled. Now many he-men reek so much of the sniff-sweet they pour on their faces in the morning that they smell as if they had spent three weeks in a barbershop.

Poor man and self-made millionaire share one trait in common — both like to reminisce about the hard times they had in their youth. But the millionaire generally has a more appreciative audience, simply because his tale has a happier ending.

Whatever happened to the mystery of femininity? Now that the television commercials show us that women are afflicted with dandruff, denture breath and even athlete's foot, they don't seem to be any more of an enigma than ordinary mortals.

Hired Student Rebels Push Into Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — Several hundred Columbia University student rebels pushed into a campus building Wednesday night for an unauthorized three-hour meeting climaxed by a noisy march around the grounds of the Ivy League school.

The students and their supporters, led by a man carrying a red flag, stormed into Schermerhorn Hall, shoving aside a campus guard who pleaded with them, "I'll lose my job."

The university had withdrawn previous permission for a campus meeting due to disruption of afternoon registration by the radical Students for a Democratic Society. The rebels unsuccessfully tried to register 28 students suspended as a result of disorders last spring which shut down the school.

Officials said registration would resume today at the university, which has an enrollment of about 25,000.

Following the night meeting Mark Rudd, SDS leader and one of the suspended students, said to a crowd of 300: "Let us march around the campus and perhaps to Cordier's residence. Cordier apparently can't stand revolutionaries. We have revolutionaries from Italy, Mexico, Canada, France, Germany and Switzerland."

Andrew W. Cordier is acting university president. The six-day Conference of European and American student activists began Wednesday.

Starting to lead the march, Rudd called for revocation of the university's charter and shouted "Ho Chi Minh!" His followers picked up the chant and the march began. The crowd disappeared quietly after about an hour.

A noon rally in the center of the campus preceded the move to enroll the suspended students in the afternoon.

The suspended students were among 150 demonstrators who gathered outside the gymnasium where registration was taking place.

Rudd and 10 other suspended students charged into a line of campus policemen armed with clubs. Observers said at least two demonstrators were struck by clubs but university officials denied that the policemen used the clubs. There were no arrests and apparently no one required medical attention.

Observers said several plainclothesmen from the New York City police department were on hand, but took no part in the proceedings.

The clash lasted only 15 minutes, but registration was suspended for the rest of the day.

City Workers Seek Contract

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A contract to recognize the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO) as the bargaining agent for the city's Sanitation and Street Department employees was presented Wednesday to the city government.

The contract is to be presented to the City Manager Board Oct. 2 for consideration.

Group Calls for Cut in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted a $1.974 billion ceiling on new foreign aid appropriations Thursday and then scheduled a vote on a separate measure providing only $1.619 billion in actual funds.

The appropriation ceiling was provided in a compromise measure authorizing continuation of the program for the present fiscal year but providing no appropriations. It was sent to the Senate by roll call vote of 196 to 150.

A separate bill proposing actual appropriations of $1.619 billion to finance the program was approved earlier in the day by the House Appropriations Committee and scheduled for House

Three Positions for City Board to Be on the November Ballot

Hope voters will select three to the City Board of Directors in the general election in November.

The positions are Post 1 now held by Mayor Donal Parker; Post 2 held by Bill Wray and Post 4 held by John B. Gardner. James Lockhart has filed for the position now held by Mayor Parker. Mr. Gardner has filed for re-election and so far has no opponent. Dr. Sam Strong has filed for the position held by Bill Wray. Neither Mr. Wray, assistant mayor, nor Mayor Parker have announced their intentions.

Other Board members whose terms haven't yet expired are Frank Douglas, Post 3; Dr. Lester Sizem, Post 5; Leonard Ellis, Post 6; and Clyde Fouse, Post 7.

Any qualified voter who is a resident of Hope may run for any position. He must file a petition with City Clerk Mrs. Frances Reynerson not less than 40 days before the election which is November 5.

Cites P.O. for Building and Grounds Care

The Hope Post Office and its employees have been selected to receive the Postmaster General's "Citation for Excellence" for outstanding maintenance and care of the buildings and grounds of the Hope postal facility, Senator J. W. (Bill) Fulbright announced today.

Senator Fulbright said he was advised by the Postmaster General that the citation is awarded on the recommendation of the Assistant Postmaster General for Facilities. Only those communities whose postal facilities have received superior ratings in rigid inspections by regional postal officials are eligible for the citation.

The evaluation takes into consideration such factors as unusually attractive grounds, well-kept walls and other physical surroundings, removal of hazards to safety and similar efforts which reflect a well-run office.

Senator Fulbright said, "The Postmaster General has informed me that Hope will be cited for maintaining its postal facility in such a superior manner that it provides a clean, attractive and pleasant place in which the public may conduct its postal business."

Senator Fulbright commended Postmaster Alfred D. Branham, his postal employees and the citizens of Hope for their contributions toward a cleaner, neater community.

Democrats Convene, Fight Avoided

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Key-note Charles Matthews launched the Democratic party state convention today with a call for the party to "dismantle and bury the last vestiges of the old machine."

The young North Little Rock legislator included more than a dozen references to "free and open" convention sessions, dissolution of "the old machine," and the prospect of party reforms in his keynote address.

Voted outstanding freshman legislator of the 1968 General Assembly, Matthews said the party was strong, progressive and united.

There have been indications that some stiff fights may be developing over the issues of party rules changes, the party position on constitutional revision and other matters being pushed by the "progressive" element in the party.

Matthews said this as strength, rather than weakness.

"Indeed our diversity, our broad representative base, our various voices and our varied hopes, all these things give us the great honor and great responsibility of representing the only party of the people in Arkansas."

Gun Control Bill Is Passed by Senate and Sent to Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A gun control bill, attacked by the National Rifle Association but falling far short of what President Johnson sought after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has passed the Senate and been sent to joint conference committee with the House.

The bill, basically banning mail order sales of rifles and shotguns, was passed Wednesday with two major differences from the version approved in the House July 2.

But the conference committee is not expected to have difficulty reaching a compromise which then must be approved again by the separate chambers before going on to the White House.

With some members of Congress anxious to get home to campaign for re-election and the Senate facing prolonged debate on a new chief justice the outlook for swift final action is uncertain.

The Senate and House versions differ mainly in penalties proposed for criminals committing federal crimes while armed with a gun and for sales of ammunition.

Neither version contains the major provisions sought by Johnson after the June 6 assassination of Kennedy, gunned down by a pistol after winning the California Democratic presidential primary election.

These would have required registration of all firearms and licensing of owners. Soundly defeated earlier in the House and in the Senate Judiciary Committee, the provisions were rejected Wednesday in the Senate 55 to 31.

The president of the National Rifle Association termed defeat of the registration provisions "a victory for the American people."

But Harold Glasen, a Lansing, Mich., gun dealer, said: "See GUN CONTROL On Page 11"

Death Toll in Week of War Is 217

SAIGON (AP) — A total of 217 Americans were killed in action in Vietnam last week, the U.S. Command announced today. This was only slightly above the weekly average for the past few months.

The command said 1,485 Americans were wounded and that 739 of these were hospitalized. This also was slightly above the recent average.

The weekly report said 2,484 enemy soldiers were killed, also somewhat above the recent average. South Vietnamese casualties were 286 killed, 1,269 wounded and 37 missing. It was the ninth consecutive week that the number of South Vietnamese dead have exceeded the American total.

The report did not include casualties in the fighting early this week in the northern provinces and northwest of Saigon.

Two Injured in Accident at Columbia

An auto driven by Joe McCorkle, 17, of Columbus hit the rear of a tractor pulling a trailer on Highway 73 west of Columbia this morning, injuring two persons.

Driver of the tractor, R. E. Jackson, 71, of Columbia, sustained a shoulder injury and was brought to a local hospital for treatment. Young McCorkle was also hospitalized with a chest injury.

State Trooper Robert Neel said the small auto McCorkle was driving overturned and the tractor and trailer was demolished.

Entrenched Enemy Is Blasted Out

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American forces maneuvered to the fringes of the demilitarized zone along the western anchor of the McNamara Line and blasted entrenched North Vietnamese troops with tank and gunfire, military spokesmen reported today.

About 200 men from the 1st Brigade of the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division killed 23 North Vietnamese soldiers in a two-hour fight Wednesday a mile below the DMZ. Three Americans were wounded.

North Vietnamese troops are reported digging in around allied patrol bases along the northern frontier, apparently trying to hem in allied troops and keep the infiltration routes open.

The 5th Division troops moved out of their base at Con Thien and pushed to within a mile of the southern edge of the DMZ when the North Vietnamese opened up with mortars and machine guns. The American tanks replied with 90mm tank guns, and the battle continued for about two hours.

Con Thien is the western anchor of the McNamara Line, the string of electronic detection devices that runs from the coast inland for 11 miles and is supposed to sound the alarm when infiltrating troops cross it. It is named for former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

U.S. sources say as many as 30,000 North Vietnamese soldiers are concentrated along the northern frontier, and the U.S. Command expects another major enemy offensive in the northern provinces before the monsoon season reaches its peak in November.

Sharp fighting also was reported farther south, along the coastal lowlands midway between Saigon and the DMZ.

American troops from the Americal Division clashed with a strong enemy force below Quang Ngai City Wednesday, 10 Americans were killed and 15 were wounded. Enemy casualties were not known.

In a delayed report, U.S. headquarters said other troops from the Americal Division killed 43 North Vietnamese soldiers in an all-night battle Tuesday south of Tam Ky, another provincial capital. The fight was triggered when enemy troops ambushed a U.S. unit, killing eight Americans and wounding 19.
